New Host and Servers!

In order to make visiting the DWF more pleasurable we have moved to a new host with much faster servers! If you haven't visited in a while drop by and see for yourself!

DWF Hosting Fundraiser Auction

Based on feedback from our members and moderators we'll be hosting a fundraiser auction to ensure that the DWF can remain ad free and hosted on fast servers going forward.

A few items have already been listed and can be viewed on the Auctions Page! Check them out I'm sure there will be something listed that you like!

If you have an item you would like to donate please contact our admin or one of our moderators.

New Site Supporter Section!

Along with Site Supporter Only forums a new section has been created that contains information such as articles, ads, price lists which has been compiled since the DWF was started. If you are a Dan Wesson fan the cost of becoming a site supporter is a small price to pay for amount of information that is available.

The follow categories are now available to Site Supporters!

- Advertisements
- Articles
- Calendars - Images from past DWF calendars
- Dan Wesson Historical Information
- Manuals
- Model Information
- Patents
- Photos
- Production Numbers
- Price Lists
- Reloading Information
- Serial Number Registry - Used for determining your revolvers age.

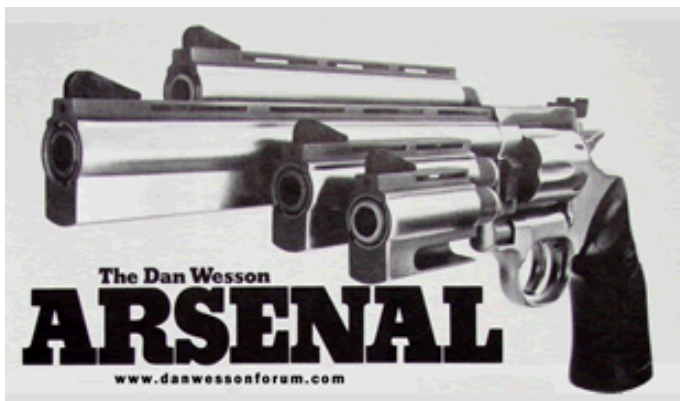

DWF Redesign

The DWF has been redesigned to make navigating the site easier. Current news and information about the DWF is now posted to the home page. The features below have been incorporated into the site in the last couple of months:

- Shopping Cart - A new shopping cart was added to simplify DWF purchases!
- Site Supporters - Site Supporters only area where they can view the archive of information that has been assembled.
- Newsletters - Added the ability to send out newsletters to members.
- Issues and Feature Request - added the ability to members to quickly report issues and request new features. These options can be access at the bottom of each page.

These are just a few of the features that have been added. We hope you will drop by and check them out!
